Real-time Credit Risk Management with HighRadius

Online Credit Application Portal

Create customizable credit application forms for faster customer onboarding

Capture complete and accurate credit data with customizable online credit application forms. Reduce the time between credit application form submission and credit approval by consolidating bank references and bureau data automatically.

Automated Credit Data Aggregation

Track real-time credit data from multiple sources and save analysts' time

Aggregate credit data from 40+ trusted global and local agencies and auto-extract credit reports, financial reports, and credit insurance information. Speed up your credit monitoring process with a centralized repository and reduce analysts' data collection and verification time.

Automated Periodic Reviews

Enable faster credit reviews for better visibility into customer portfolios.

Automate periodic reviews for low-risk customers, and fast-track ad-hoc reviews for high-risk customers based on multiple parameters. Improve client portfolio visibility, control bad debt, expedite reviews, and create a more visible audit trail.

AI-Driven Credit Risk Scoring and Automated Workflow

Identify the different risk segments and approve credit limits faster with higher accuracy

Enable analysts to look at various scoring models based on business units and risk segments to come up with a credit limit. Use automated workflows to ensure credit approval for higher dollar values as per the hierarchy in the credit department.

Real-Time Credit Risk Monitoring

Automate continuous monitoring of customer portfolios for better credit decisions

Track macro and micro-level changes in your customers' credit risk and payment behavior with real-time risk monitoring. Obtain revised credit term recommendations based on changes in the customer's risk score.

AI-Based Blocked Order Management

Auto-predict blocked orders and take proactive decisions for effective credit management

Predict blocked orders based on the customer's credit utilization and payment history. Leverage AI-based release or partial payment recommendations to proactively make strategic credit decisions and handle orders effectively.
